Welcome to Supperland!

As is probably clear, you're inside a restored church. We've tried to responsibly uphold the integrity of the mid-century architecture, like our center aisle and large windows. We've also left the rugged interior walls just as they were the first time we stepped in the building. The 120-year-old pews, handmade tables, custom plates, and touches of brass simply accent what has always been an inherently beautiful space.
